

BRIEF LOCALS.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1898.

J. C. Verkamp is now in Cincinnati, where he will spend the winter.

Seven stations along the line of the road have sent here for vaccine points.

Sam Black is now on the day watch. He will assist Marshal Woody in collecting taxes.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fisher left this week for Avalon, Tex., where they will spend the winter.

W. J. Macauley of Denver arrived in the city yesterday and will leave for the west tomorrow.

Charles McGonigle, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, left for Phoenix Wednesday.

For a Xmas present nothing is more appropriate than a nice piece of furniture. We have it at Cash Store.

A. E. Frankforter, who has been in the southern part of the territory for some weeks, returned to the city Monday.

Mrs. N. Greenleaf and daughter Gordie left Monday for Carthage, Ill., where they will visit relatives during the winter.

Leave your order at Coffin's for turkey, oysters, celery, cranberries, sweet potatoes, lettuce, radishes, onions and berries.

J. F. Smith of Los Angeles, who put in the asphalt lining in the reservoir of the waterworks, is asphaltting Babbitt Bros.' cellar.

Among the arrivals from Flagstaff last week were George Hochderffer and family, William Hochderffer, George Hill, R. P. Fox, R. C. Jones, Frank Beasley, Bernard Black, Oscar and Jack LeBarron and Charles Bell—Phoenix Republican.

James Haga, the Japanese who ran a bakery shop across the railroad track, sold a lot of plunder he did not own to the second hand store and left for parts unknown.

Mrs. J. E. Priest has been suffering for the past week from a swollen limb, caused from trimming a toe nail too close. The services of Dr. Robinson were necessary.

C. R. Perry, formerly division superintendent on the Santa Fe Pacific, passed through here Wednesday on his way to Winslow, where he has accepted the position of trainmaster.

Thursday night E. M. Elliot of Denver, Col., organized a lodge of United Moderns here, with a membership of twenty-five. The organization is new, but a popular beneficiary one, embracing a number of features not included in the older fraternal orders.

Friedlein has the contract for roofing the Arizona Lumber company's plant and has seven men employed. There are about 39,000 square feet of iron roofing, standing seam, in the plant. The work on the mill, boiler and engine room will be completed today.

It is rumored that a two-story annex will be built on the west side of the New Bank hotel. It will have a frontage of 76 feet on Railroad avenue and run back 45 feet, which will add twenty outside rooms, four bath rooms, lavatory, etc. This addition is made necessary by the increased patronage this hostelry is now enjoying under the popular management of Lyman H. Tol-free. The hotel will be remodeled and have a private dining room. When completed it will be the best equipped hotel between Kansas City and Los Angeles.
